DISCUSSION/SUMMARY:

Calaveras County is rich in history with more diversity than most. From the Northern Mi-wuks and mining operations to the milling of lumber, production of agricultural crops and being a county of origin for water supplies throughout the state. This heritage is something that makes Calaveras County the wonderful place to live that it is and should be acknowledged and celebrated. The photos now displayed in the Board Chambers recognize the diversity and unique character of Calaveras that makes us who we are today.
